

Gateway to the history of Shropshire and Telford

Interested in history?

Want to try something new in the New Year? Free workshops at Shropshire Archives

Whether you're new to using archives or have previous experience, these six workshops are all about discovering the stories of the River Severn.

We'll be exploring collections and finding out why the river was, and still is, important for people and wildlife.

- Learn new skills
- Meet new people
- Access historic collections

When? Ideally you'll take part in all workshops: 2-4pm every week from Tuesday 5th February for six weeks.

What is it for? Your discoveries will be part of an exhibition and will contribute to a major river restoration project called Unlocking the Severn.

More Info? For more details contact Tim Thorpe, Volunteering Officer Officer:

Tim.Thorpe@severnrivertrust.com or call 07707 585799

